

BIPE 105C : Construction Document Reading

Introduces the fundamentals of reading construction documents for residential and commercial projects and drawing conventions. The course focuses on residential construction documents including the survey, off-site and site improvements; the structure, plumbing, mechanical, electrical systems; foundations, and below-grade construction and introduces commercial construction documents reading and applicable codes.

Credits 3

Lab/Practicum/Clinical Hours 0

Lecture Hours 3