

BUS 101C : Introduction to Business

An introduction to the general concepts of business, including organization, forms of ownership, finance, management, marketing, production, and the relationship between business and society. The current business climate and attitudes will also be examined through the use of business publications and articles.

Credits 3

Lab/Practicum/Clinical Hours 0

Lecture Hours 3